

Bridging the complexity of China's financial markets

ChinaTickData on MarketDesk

Accurate, high quality historical data on China's futures market for all commodities and financial futures contracts

Born of hedge fund origins, ChinaTickData identified demand for accurate, historical data in the complex and challenging environment of China's financial markets.

ChinaTickData built its one of a kind China database investing in a year long effort out of Shanghai working in tandem with institutional clients applying rigorous due diligence in covering all commodities and financial futures contracts.

The next step: finding a delivery platform to securely and efficiently present its data to industry professionals. ChinaTickData choose the MarketDesk platform to partner and expertly deliver key historical data for deeper insight into China's financial markets and economy.

The ChinaTickData – MarketDesk platform combines the critical advantage of a cloud-based market data distribution vehicle generating key China historical data spanning the entire commodities sector and financial futures contracts.

Together, the ChinaTickData– MarketDesk platform provide the essential tools needed by high-speed traders and quantitative investors who wish to research and test varied trading strategies in the world's largest futures market.
